HEC Joint Budgetary Review and Assessment Meeting

Worthy Vice Chancellor, Prof. Dr. Zill-i-Huma Nazli, attended the HEC Joint Budgetary Review and Assessment Meeting for the FY 2024-25 at the University of Agriculture, Faisalabad on January 15, 2024, along with the Treasurer, Mr. M. Ansar and Additional Treasurer, Dr. Sadia Asim. The panel consisting of experts from the Higher Education Commission, the Higher Education Department, the Government of Punjab, and the Finance Department, appreciated the vision of the Vice Chancellor and also acknowledged the efforts made by the Treasurer to strengthen the financial position of the university. They also advised the university team for further improvement in the financial matters of the university.

Monitoring & Evaluation (M&E) Division Teams visit to GCWUF's New Campus

A Monitoring & Evaluation (M&E) Division team from the Higher Education Commission (HEC) recently undertook a fruitful visit to GC Women University Faisalabad's new campus on January 16, 2024. The visit, which included key members of the HEC M&E Division, was marked by a warm reception from the university officials, reflecting the collaborative spirit between the two institutions. The HEC M&E team, comprising Syed Naveed Hussain Shah, Director/In-Charge (M&E), Mr. Asim Khanzada, Deputy Director, and Mirza Ali Raza, Assistant Director, was greeted with enthusiasm by the esteemed Vice Chancellor of GC Women University Faisalabad, Dr. Sadia Asim, along with Director Planning & Development, and Engr. Muhammad Tayyab Asif, Chief Engineer. Engr. Muhammad Tayyab Asif, in charge of the project, provided a comprehensive briefing to the HEC team, shedding light on the current status and addressing any challenges faced.

The proactive approach and dedication of the university officials in dealing with project issues were appreciated by the HEC M&E team. The visit also witnessed a warm acknowledgment from the HEC M&E team for the new campus facilities. The Vice-Chancellor and her team's efforts in providing detailed insights into the project and their commitment to addressing challenges were praised.

The HEC team further motivated the university officials to continue their relentless pursuit of development and progress for the institution. In conclusion, the monitoring visit proved to be a successful collaboration, fostering a stronger bond between HEC and GC Women University Faisalabad. It underscored a shared commitment to the advancement of higher education, with both parties looking forward to continued cooperation for the betterment of academic facilities and opportunities in the region.

Qualitative Research and Data Analysis Using NVIVO

Dr. Aasma Khalid, Director QEC, and Dr. Hira Munir, Director ORIC attended the workshop titled "Qualitative Research and Data Analysis Using NVIVO" at Hailey College of Commerce, University of the Punjab, Lahore, from January 10th to 12th, 2024. The workshop was organized by the Punjab Higher Education Commission (PHEC) and it focused on exploring NVIVO software and its applications in qualitative research, covering Thematic Analysis, Content Analysis, Sentiment Analysis, and Grounded Theory projects. The goal was to enhance participants' skills in using NVIVO for qualitative data analysis across methodologies, contributing to their research proficiency. During the three-day workshop at Hailey College of Commerce, the program included a comprehensive series of nine sessions, each providing hands-on training. This format allowed participants to delve deeply into the intricacies of utilizing NVIVO for qualitative research and data analysis. The software's advanced coding capabilities aid in extracting meaningful insights from qualitative research, ultimately supporting evidence-based decision-making and strategic planning within the institution.
